ACM COPYRIGHT FORM

Title of Work

Author(s)

Publication or Conference Name and Date

A. TRANSFER OF COPYRIGHT AGREEMENT

Copyright to the above work (including without limitation, the right to publish the work in whole or in part in any and all forms of media, now or hereafter known) is hereby transfered to the ACM (for U.S. Government work, to the extent transferrable*) effective as of the date of this agreement on the understanding that the work has been accepted for publication by ACM.

However, each of the Authors retain the following rights:

(1) All other proprietary rights except copyright (and the publication rights transferred to ACM), such as patent rights.
(2) The right to reuse, without fee, in future works of the Author's own provided that the ACM citation and Copyright notice are included.
(3) The right to post a personal copy on non-ACM servers for limited noncommercial distributions, provided that the ACM Copyright notice is attached to the personal copy and that the server prominently displays a general policy notice about the use of copyright works it contains.
(4) Employers who originally own copyright may distribute copies of works of their employees within the employer's organization.

This Form must be signed by the Author or, in the case of a "work made for hire," by the employer and must be received by ACM, Inc. -See Box C- before processing of the manuscript for publication can be completed. Authors should understand that consistent with ACM's policy of encouraging dissemination of information each published paper will appear with the following notice:

> "Permission to make digital/ hard copy of all or part of this material without fee is granted provided that copies are not made or distributed for profit or commercial advantage, the ACM copyright/server notice, the title of the publication and its date appear, and notice is given that copyring is by permission of the Association for Computing Machinery, Inc. (ACM). To copy otherwise, to republish, to post on servers or to redistribute to lists, requires prior specific permission and/or a fee."

TO: Authors Submitting Papers for Publication by ACM
FROM: ACM Director of Publications
SUBJECT: ACM Copyright Procedures

Thank you for submitting a paper for publication by ACM, Inc. ACM's publications are read throughout the world, and we must deal with requests for reprinting, republishing, redistributing, digitizing, posting to servers, translating, anthologizing, and other actions.

It is the policy of ACM to own the copyrights on its technical publications to protect the interests of ACM, its Authors and their employers, and at the same time to facilitate the appropriate reuse of this material by others.

United States Copyright Law requires that the transfer of copyright of each contribution from the Author to ACM be confirmed in writing. It is necessary that Authors sign either Part A or Part B of the ACM Copyright Form and return it with the manuscript to the address on the Form.

If you are employed and you prepared your paper as part of your job, the rights to your paper may initially rest with your employer. In that case, when you sign the ACM Copyright Transfer Form, we assume you are authorized to do so by your employer. If not, it should be signed by someone so authorized.

For jointly authored papers, an original signature is required from one (assumed senior) Author only. However, we assume all Authors have been advised and have consented to the terms of this Form.

Authors who are U. S. Government employees and/or whose papers are not copyrightable as part of certain Government contract work, are not required to sign Part A, but all coauthors outside the Government contract are.

Part B of the Form is to be used instead of Part A only if any or all Authors are U. S.

Government employees and they prepared the paper as part of their job, or the work is an uncopyrightable product of a Government contract.

ACM Authors have all the rights scientific authors have historically enjoyed, including the right to present orally the submitted or similar material in any form; the right to reuse in future works of the Author's own with notice and credit to ACM; the right to republish in any form of media with notice and credit to ACM, in works published by the employer or for the employer's internal business purposes; the right to reproduce and distribute for peer review in reasonable quantities and all proprietary rights other than copyright.

Although it is not part of ACM's policy to grant Authors or their organizations the sole right to approve permissions for republishing by third parties, ACM always seeks the approval of its Authors, for jointly authored papers the first-named (assumed senior) Author only, in weighing such requests. This is done as a matter of professional courtesy.
